Excerpt from Sermons for the Christian Year They understood none of these things; and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken. And yet our Lord's sayings were plain enough in themselves, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things which are written by the prophets shall be accomplished unto the Son of Man: for He shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on: and they shall scourge Him, and put Him to death; and the third day He shall rise again. The words, surely, however wonderful, are not hard to be understood; and yet we are told, both on this and on other like occasions, that they were quite beyond the comprehension of the disciples. They understood not His saying, and were afraid to ask Him. Though He spoke never so openly, they had still to question among themselves, what such sayings on His part should mean.
