Department of Justice. resonance with the house and the neighborhood, potential buyers decide to look elsewhere and sales prices begin to stagnate. Fraud tends to cluster geographically because once the first fraudulently inflated sales price is recorded in the deed, realtor, commercial appraisal and tax databases, it can be referenced as a comparable sale to support an artificially inflated appraisal for other 73 nearby properties. Thus a single problem property quickly mushrooms into multiple problem properties. (Figure 1) Even in upscale neighborhoods its not long before the 74 accumulating weight of vacant and neglected properties makes the area look blighted. (Figure 2). By...
