After this, he took to his heels at the mere sight of a Brother. By and bye all this became known among the Brotherhood. One day they were talking about it in the Hall of Truth: Friend, I hear that Brother So-and-so dropped filth in the face of that loafer, and left him! The Master came in, and wanted to know what they were all talking about as they sat there. They told him. Said he, Brethren, this is not the first time this brother attacked the man with dirt, but he did just the same before. Then he told them an old-world tale. 211 Once on a time, those citizens of the kingdoms of Anga and Magadha who were travelling from one land to the other, used to stay in a house on the marches of the two kingdoms, and there they drank liquor and ate the flesh of fishes, and early in the morning they yoked their carts and went away. At the time when they came, a certain dung-beetle, led by the odour of dung, came to the place where they had drunken, and saw some liquor shed upon the ground, and for thirst he drank it, and returned to his lump of dung intoxicated. When he climbed upon it...
