Reviews

This kind of publication is every little thing and taught me to looking ahead of time and a lot more. It is packed with wisdom and knowledge Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

THE SANE WOMAN No, I m not crazy, Doctor, I m all right... Whose business is it if I lock the door To the spare room? You couldn t stand that noise And work. If I stir round out here, Jingle the tins and clatter dishwashing, I can go all day without hearing it. I get along all right through the day time . . . Perhaps you could do something for me nights. Yes, what you heard I told Mis Peck is true: She walks out of her picture frame at night; I hear her stepping light around the house And laughing in the dark. I d laugh that way If I were she; Oh, I would laugh and laugh . . . When I first came here as a second wife I hated the old picture on the wall Just as a young girl would, but Dana said His boys would think their father had forgot Their mother if we took the picture down. There in the picture they are little boys, -- Five of them hanging on her plumped out arms, With shining faces and clean roundabouts. They were grown men-folks when I married him. But I said, Very soon I shall not care About the picture hanging on the wall; I shall not care, and in wild make-believe I d snatch a pillow tight up in my arms. The years went by . you see I...
